

Welcome to NexusX. Investing carries risks, but also holds opportunities to change the future. Choose a professional, trustworthy team, and risks will turn into opportunities.

COMPANY PROFILE

NEXUS X

NexusX was inspired by the 2021 GME (GameStop) incident. That financial crisis, sparked by retail investors, revealed structural asymmetries in traditional markets and awakened our deep pursuit of fairness, transparency, and shared benefits.

Founded in 2024, the team initially focused on European stock markets. With over a year of practical experience, they gradually developed a comprehensive system of trading strategies and risk control. In March 2025, NexusX partnered with SEC-regulated Northcrest Capital, officially entering the US stock market and embarking on a global expansion.

Currently, we have brought together over 200 analysts and quantitative experts, combining AI intelligence with professional strategies to help members capture stable, efficient, and compliant market opportunities. All funds and transactions operate within a transparent and traceable regulatory framework, ensuring security and trust.

NexusX is more than just an investment team; it is a financial ecosystem dedicated to shared growth. Through systematic investment paths and team collaboration, members can not only achieve stable returns, but also gradually move towards long-term, sustainable financial freedom.

MISSION

NEXUS X

NexusX is committed to creating a transparent, fair, and stable growth environment for its global members, making wealth opportunities no longer a privilege for the few but an accessible option for everyone.

We firmly believe that a fair financial system should reward hard work and rewards, rather than being constrained by established structures. NexusX is committed to helping members achieve steady growth and sustained returns through systematic strategies, long-term accumulation, and a sustainable development model.

Our goal is not only to enable people to profit today, but also to build a long-term path to wealth for the future. We believe that true freedom comes from everyone having the power to control their own financial destiny.

COPY TRADING SYSTEM

NEXUS X

The Copy Trading System, jointly developed by NexusX and the NCC platform, aims to make investing simpler, safer, and more efficient. Its core concept is to enable even ordinary investors to enjoy institutional-level investment strategies and returns.

Once members complete authorization, their funds will enter the NCC platform's regulatory system and be stored independently in their personal accounts, ensuring transparency, security, and preventing unauthorized withdrawal. At this point, Ethan's professional strategy team will receive trading authorization and use these funds for centralized investment operations in the US stock market.

During the execution of our investment strategies, we employ a "60/40" allocation mechanism: only 60% of the funds in each trade are invested in the market, while the remaining 40% is reserved for hedging and risk protection, allowing members to cover positions or provide protection during market fluctuations. This mechanism effectively mitigates the impact of market fluctuations and provides members with institutional-level financial security.

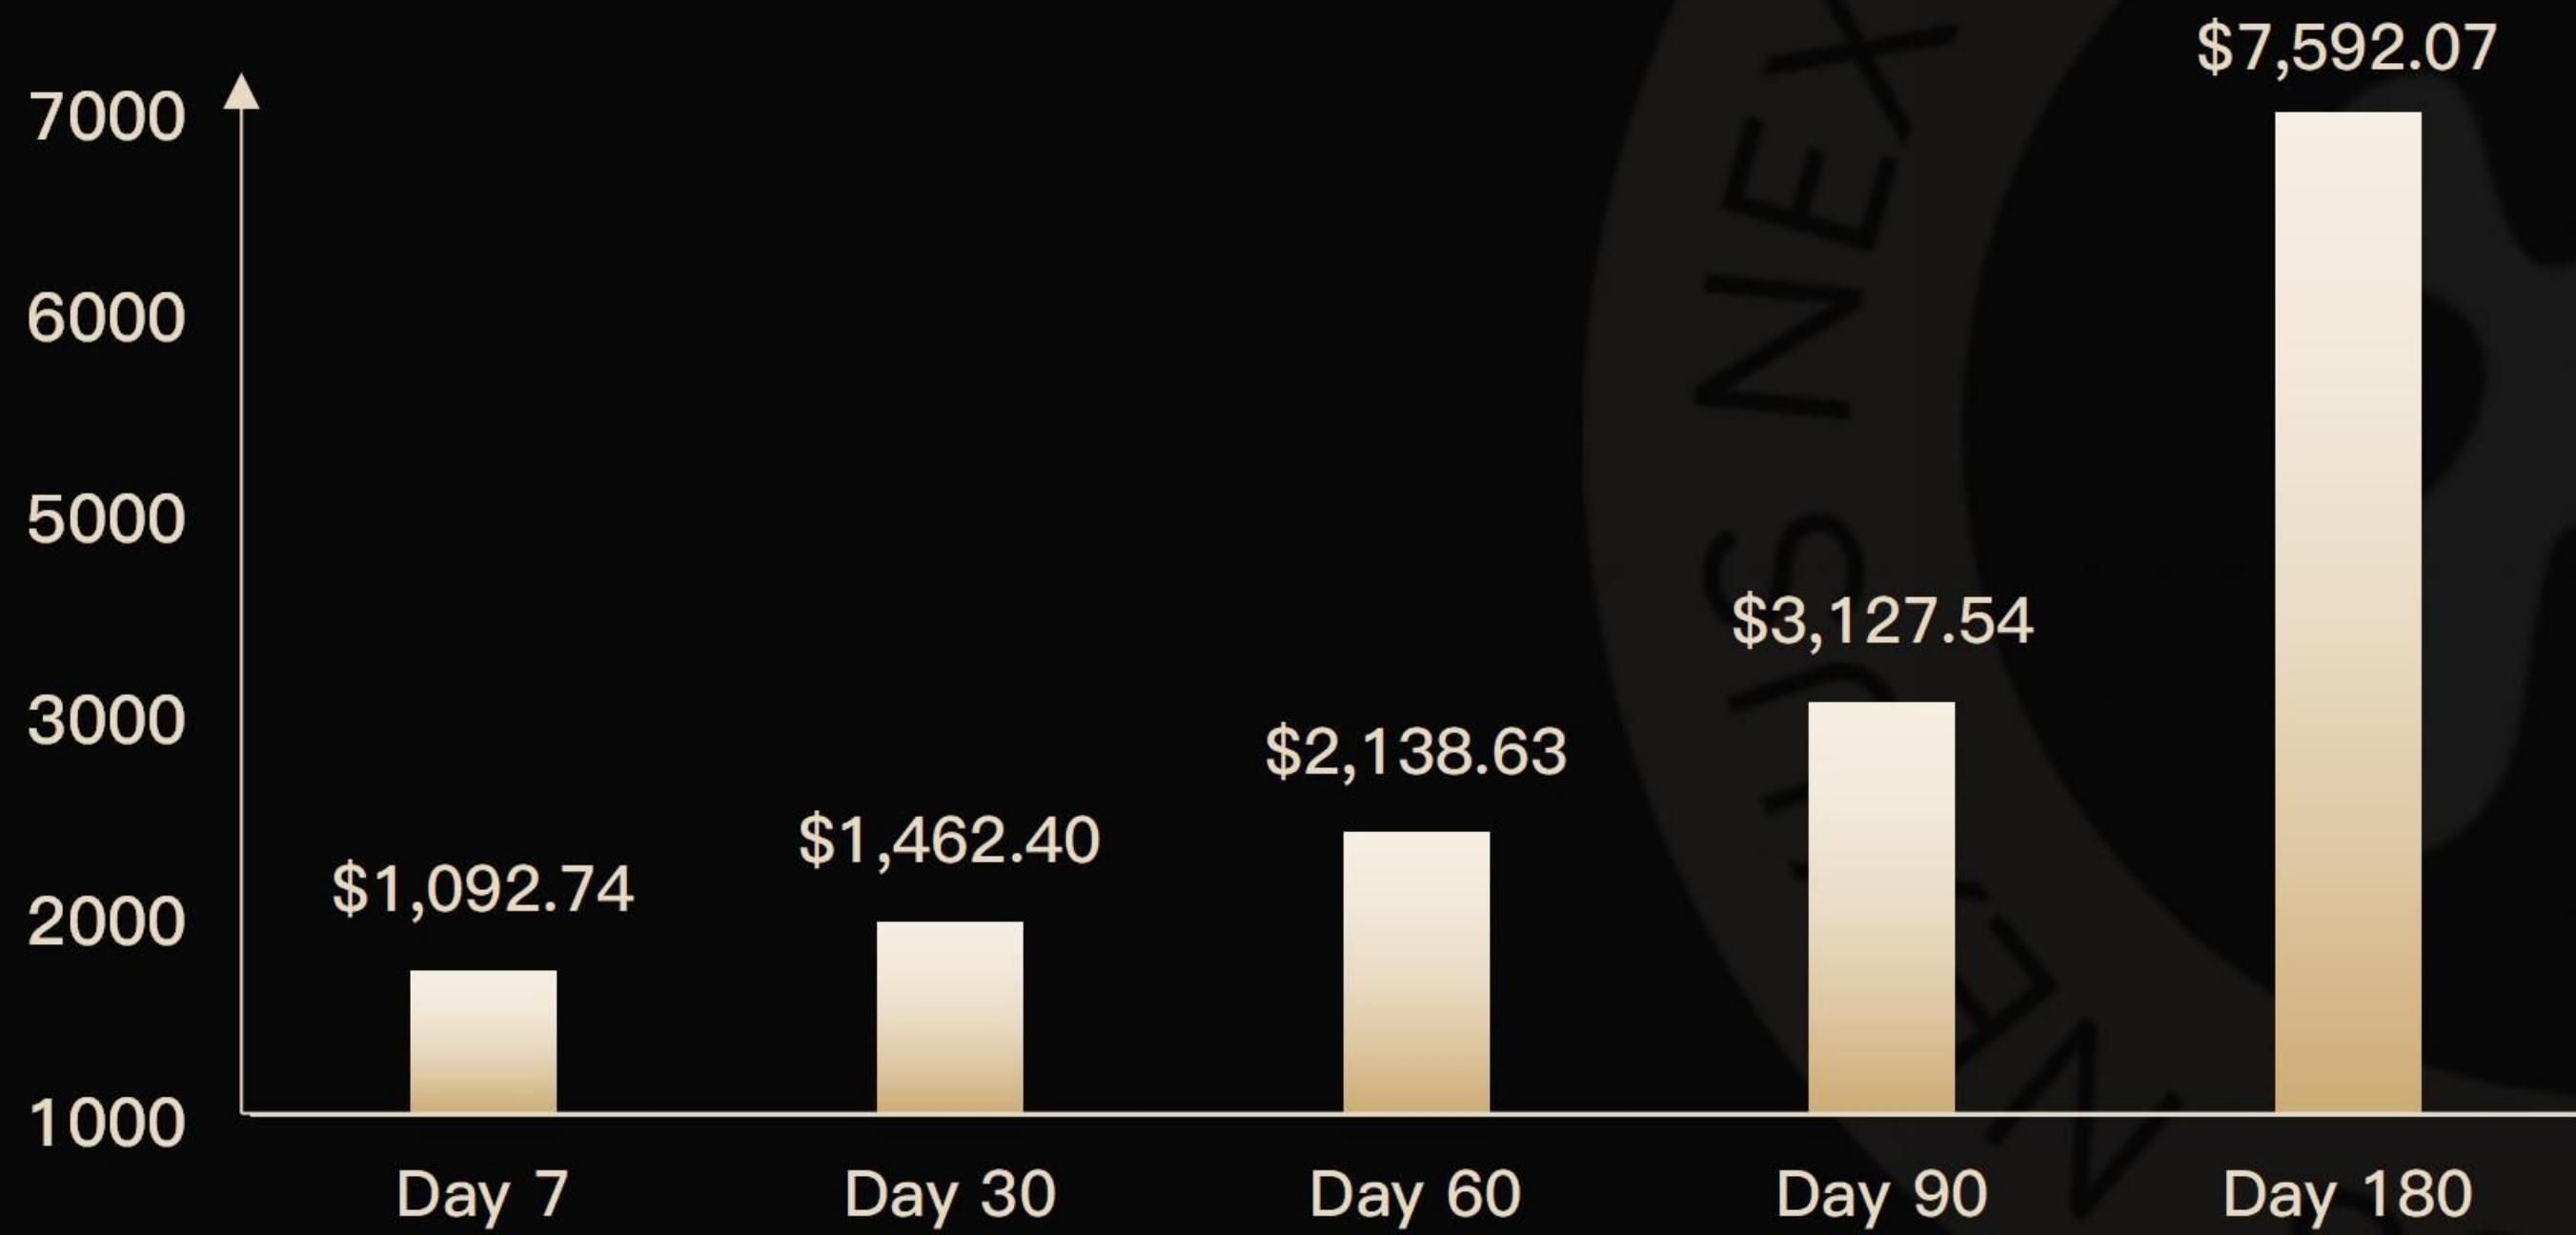

At the end of each day's trading, principal and profits are automatically settled, allowing members to enjoy consistent and stable returns without any complex operations. This not only lowers the threshold for participation in copy trading, but also allows every member to achieve long-term wealth accumulation under the protection of compliance and professionalism.

THE SYNERGISTIC EFFECT OF THE DUAL-TRACK INCOME MODEL

NEXUS X

The base income is the stable return each member earns through copy trading, ensuring steady daily returns. Commercial scale revenue is the additional growth engine built upon this foundation.

When members earn commercial scale revenue through invitations, team building, and rank advancement, this income can be directly converted into personal account principal and added to the copy trading system. As the principal continues to grow, the base income will also increase accordingly, creating a compounding effect.

THIS MEANS

- Base income = the foundation for stable growth
- Commercial scale revenue = the accelerator for expanding principal

The interaction between the two ultimately creates a cyclical growth model of personal income + team growth + compounding expansion.

TEAMWORK, SHARED GROWTH

NEXUS X

At NexusX, every member plays a key role in the team's success. With mutual support and collaboration, everyone moves forward together. Through teamwork, each individual can gradually achieve their goals and earn greater rewards.
